2001 CAMPUS MASTER PLAN UPDATE

The 2001 Campus Master Plan is intended to capture the current condition of the university as well as provide a direction for the future. This direction is based upon the projections and goals identified during the Master Plan Update and subsequent discussions with university faculty and staff. This plan has been reviewed by various state and local governmental agencies. Numerous campus briefings have been conducted during the Spring '02 Semester to include a public hearing on May 21, 2002. The UWF Board of Trustees approved this plan on November 22, 2002. Questions and comments concerning this plan should be directed to Roger E. Rowe, Administrative Affairs Division at 474-3117 or email: rowe@uwf.edu

NOTE: This is a digital photograph of the campus master plan model currently on display in the Building 90. The buildings denoted in black represent "new construction" to the year 2014. The large beige-colored structures are future parking garages. A new sports complex for intercollegiate athletics is indicated at the center of this drawing and includes a football stadium. A research/business park is proposed for the new West Campus to include roads and associated infrastructure. A town center/retail area is also planned for the West Campus.
